Thank you to everybody who remembered my father, here in the Camelot.

My father loved to read books. Everybody who knew him would say how they enjoyed discussing history, fine arts, geography and global affairs with him. He also loved jokes. Some of them would make you laugh, some cry.

Before the accident, he was very active. He used to ride a bike, play sports and swim. He was working as a man's clothing designer for many years in Ukraine.

I am glad that I was able to visit him 2 years ago, here in the Camelot. He would knock on my door every morning and we would go to a new place. We visited the beautiful Inner Harbour, Fisherman's Warf, Beacon Hill Park, Government street, and many other amazing places. I am very grateful to him for that. These memories will stay with me forever.

Sad, Elena...
